1. What is advertising?

Advertising is defined as techniques and practices used to bring products, services, opinions or causes to public notice to persuade the public to respond in a certain way toward what is advertised. Marketing is the action or business of promoting and selling products or services, advertising is included within this.

2. Advertising Codes of Practice

By UK law all advertisements and marketing campaigns must be:

- An accurate description of the product and services.
- Legal
- Decent
- Truthful
- Honest
- Socially Responsible (Not encouraging of illegal, unsafe or anti-social behaviours.)

We adhere to UK advertising law which includes 'The Consumer Protection from Unfair Trading Regulations', this meaning we cannot mislead or harass consumers by including false or deceptive messages, leaving out important information or using aggressive sales techniques. For more information regarding this please visit: www.legislation.gov.uk/ukxi/2008/1277/contents/made

In the UK there are two advertising codes of practice that regulate how businesses advertise. They cover all kinds of promotional communications – A. Non-Broadcast Media, B. Broadcast Media.

The CAP non-broadcast Code is specific to advertisements in the realm of print, online, sales promotions, direct marketing and more. This code specifies standards for honesty and accuracy. Find more information here: <https://www.asa.org.uk/codes-and-rulings/advertising-codes/non-broadcast-code.html>

The Broadcast Code covered issues including taste, decency and product placement, and primarily focuses on TV, Radio and other platforms of that nature, however, if the group were to advertise using these facilities or with any third party companies and businesses, they are to follow the Broadcast advertising code (BCAP). Find more information here: <https://www.asa.org.uk/codes-and-rulings/advertising-codes/broadcast-code.html>

In regards to broadcast code, Ofcom oversee anything all broadcasting and are the main authority. Find more information here: <https://www.ofcom.org.uk/tv-radio-and-on-demand/broadcast-codes>

3. The Advertising Standards Authority (ASA)

Advertising rules are enforced by the ASA, and any complaints about an advertisement that does not follow broadcast rules, standards or law will be investigated and potentially withdrawn. If the product does not match the description of the advert, prosecution can take place. A complaint must be filed within 3 months of the advert appearing. The Group follows the ASA's advertising guidelines and standards and implements these into their advertising and marketing strategies.

To research or make a complaint to the ASA follow this link: <https://www.asa.org.uk/make-a-complaint.html>

4. Data Protection

Psychic Media Consultancy has existing policies regarding GDPR, and a privacy policy, copies of which can be requested by emailing psychicmediaconsultancy@outlook.com.

As this company is ran by a sole trader, data is only kept by the one person and is only shared to fulfil any requests or contracts for the client.

5. How do we advertise?

The group advertises both digitally and in print, and sometimes may enter partnerships with third parties. Advertising can include:

- Print: leaflets, booklets, posters, printouts, prospectus, membership cards, banners.
- Digital: social media (company affiliated), websites, emails, search, display, video marketing and any broadcast media.
- Third parties: Third parties include anyone we may have worked/will work with in the future, past or present, this may include radio spots, charities, local newspapers, events, businesses and more.

Psychic Media Consultancy uses social media and their affiliated websites as to advertise and market their respective resources in a true, honest, and legal way. All social media may be used to advertise their own or client's facilities, and any marketing deals we may have running at the time. Please refer to our Discounts Term and conditions below.

Psychic Media Consultancy may use print advertising and marketing and will follow code of conducts and British law to ensure the legality of all advertisements and facilities, with true and honest information given. Third parties will be made aware of our affiliations and will only go forward with campaigns if they follow all broadcast rules and procedures, any false information given by third parties we are not held accountable for.

6. Promotional Discount
